

Stamping American War Crosses for the Brave at the Mint; A War Relief Show of Dogs

A HYDRAULIC PRESS at the Philadelphia Mint stamping out American War Crosses.

THE WAR CROSS after it has received the final 250-ton pressure. The cross is made of bronze.

THE STEEL DIE that shapes the valiant soldier's badge of bravery.

THE NETHERLANDS ROYAL FAMILY on the way to church in The Hague. From left to right are Queen Wilhelmina, Princess Juliana and the Prince Consort Henry.

READY FOR THE BRAVE. Sewing ribbons to the crosses. The American War Cross is awarded for deeds of bravery.

MRS. J. C. SHAY exhibiting Shay's Betty at the Boston Terrier Show in the Bellevue-Stratford Roof Garden.

MRS. W. H. GREENE and White Pepper, an entry at the exclusive "Boston" show yesterday for the benefit of the Permanent Blind Relief War Fund for soldiers and sailors.

MISS ELEANOR WEIKEL at the Terrier Show with Josephine.